Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of the Union of Myanmar

PRESS RELEASE

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of the Union of Myanmar sent a diplomatic note of protest to the Foreign, Commonwealth & Development Office of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland about the events surrounding the transfer of the Myanmar Ambassador to the United Kingdom, Sir Evaristo Kyei Zoon Aung, from its Embassy in London on 7 April 2021. This gesture constitutes an illegal interference with the diplomatic and consular rights and privileges of Myanmar entrusted properly to the Ambassador, increasing the rights to access to the Embassy. The Ministry hopes that the

#OpenInternet
When the population is being repressed as in Myanmar 🇇🇹 or Venezuela 🇇🇻, it is also positive, it is good that the neighbors release the wifi so that the videos and complaints of citizen journalism have rapid dissemination

The scientific community is clear - we're living in a climate emergency, and collective, community-led action is critical.

How are we doing our part? We've signed onto a Science-Based Targets pledge to reduce our greenhouse gas emissions by 2030.

Making sure that reliable, authoritative information is easily accessible on Twitter has been a priority long before we were in the midst of a global pandemic.

There is no benefit — commercial or otherwise — in not taking action on Tweets that violate our rules.

Earlier this week, in close coordination with our peers, we suspended a number of accounts targeting the election in Uganda.

If we can attribute any of this activity to state-backed actors, we will disclose to our archive of information operations.

Ahead of the Ugandan election, we're hearing reports that Internet service providers are being ordered to block social media and messaging apps.

We strongly condemn internet shutdowns – they are hugely harmful, violate basic human rights and the principles of the #OpenInternet.

We are deeply concerned by the blocking of Twitter in Nigeria. Access to the free and #OpenInternet is an essential human right in modern society.

We will work to restore access for all those in Nigeria who rely on Twitter to communicate and connect with the world. #KeepItOn 📶

Working to restore access means they will do everything legally possible, including engaging the Nigerian government to clear the misunderstanding for twitter to be fully available again.

Real choice and fair competition

The Internet is more than a handful of companies and the #DSA should reflect that.

We are calling on policymakers to include precise criteria for 'very large online platforms' that reflect the realities of the Internet

A balanced approach to content moderation

We must move past the leave-up-take-down model and focus on how people discover content online

Looking at how we can offer consumers meaningful choice and control in their online experience is at the heart of these concerns.

We ask for clarity on what defines illegal content. We believe the #DSA should reflect the idea that content moderation is proportionate to perceived harm.

Failing this, there's a real risk of building regulatory barriers that hinder compliance

A balanced approach to content moderation

We must move past the leave-up-take-down model and focus on how people discover content online

Looking at how we can offer consumers meaningful choice and control in their online experience is at the heart of these concerns.

We are deeply concerned by the blocking of Twitter in Nigeria. Access to the free and #OpenInternet is an essential human right in modern society.

We will work to restore access for all those in Nigeria who rely on Twitter to communicate and connect with the world. #KeepitOn 📶

Today marks one week since Twitter was blocked in Nigeria. We have informed the Nigerian government that we are ready to meet for an open discussion to address mutual concerns and see the service restored. We remain advocates for the free and #OpenInternet everywhere. #keepitOn 📶

We are deeply concerned by the blocking of Twitter in Nigeria. Access to the free and #OpenInternet is an essential human right in modern society.

We will work to restore access for all those in Nigeria who rely on Twitter to communicate and connect with the world. #KeepitOn

Twitter is a platform for free expression and open communication. We are committed to ensuring that our service is available to all users, regardless of their location. We are currently working to resolve the issue of access in Nigeria and will provide updates as soon as we have more information.

Abuse and harassment disproportionately affect women and underrepresented communities online.

It hurts those who are targeted, and damages the health of the conversation and the expression and exchange of ideas where people, no matter their views or perspectives, can be heard.

We are deeply concerned by the blocking of Twitter in Nigeria. Access to the free and #OpenInternet is an essential human right in modern society.

We will work to restore access for all those in Nigeria who rely on Twitter to communicate and connect with the world. #KeepitOn

Today, as part of @UNWomen #GenerationEquality ♀ Forum, we are committing to the @WebFoundation's framework to end online gender-based violence.

This follows a year-long consultative process, working alongside NGOs who graciously shared their experiences and suggestions with us.

Abuse and harassment disproportionately affect women and underrepresented communities online

It hurts those who are targeted, and damages the health of the conversation and the expression and exchange of ideas where people, no matter their views or perspectives, can be heard

We've always believed the internet should be global, free, and secure.

Today, we aim to inform the policy debate that is taking place concerning its future.

These are the five guiding principles we believe will underpin successful policy:

Twitter is here to serve and help advance the global, public conversation. Elected world leaders play a critical role in that conversation because of their outsized impact on our society.

Blocking a world leader from Twitter or removing their controversial Tweets would hide important information people should be able to see and debate. It would also not silence that leader, but it would certainly hamper necessary discussion around their words and actions.

We're expanding our work to add context to – and limit the reach of – state-affiliated media accounts on Twitter.

Now, state media outlets affiliated with Belarus will be labeled, in light of the evolving role Belarus has played in the war in Ukraine.

@smcs

We've begun labeling state-affiliated media accounts belonging to Belarus

Our teams have long believed people should know when they're engaging, whether directly or indirectly, with a state actor, and today's addition builds...

Abuse and harassment disproportionately affect women and underrepresented communities online

It hurts those who are targeted, and damages the health of the conversation and the expression and exchange of ideas where people, no matter their views or perspectives, can be heard

Twitter er et af de mest populære sociale medier i verden. Det er et vigtigt redskab til at kommunikere og forbinde sig med andre. Hvis Twitter bliver blokeret, kan det have alvorlige konsekvenser for mange mennesker. Derfor er det vigtigt at sikre, at Twitter er tilgængeligt for alle.

Ahead of the Ugandan election, we're hearing reports that Internet service providers are being ordered to block social media and messaging apps.

We strongly condemn internet shutdowns – they are hugely harmful, violate basic human rights and the principles of the #OpenInternet.

Earlier this week, in close coordination with our peers, we suspended a number of accounts targeting the election in Uganda.

If we can attribute any of this activity to state-backed actors, we will disclose to our archive of information operations.

O PL exige a revelação de alguns dados comerciais considerados sensíveis e estratégicos que vão gerar desvantagem competitiva para as plataformas menores, além de reforçar o poder das dominantes e desestimular modelos abertos semelhantes ao Twitter

Além disso, o PL agregou nas últimas versões temas que não condizem com seu objetivo inicial e exigem maior debate, como a remuneração de conteúdos jornalísticos, que pode trazer efeitos reversos no combate a notícias falsas, e a regulação da publicidade digital de maneira ampla.

A inclusão de novos temas não relacionados ao combate de notícias falsas sem um debate mais aprofundado tem gerado preocupações em vários setores e, nesse sentido, apoiamos as notas já emitidas por @IABBRASIL, @Camaraenet, @Alal lat, @abra, e @a,or d gital.

O texto do PL trouxe avanços importantes, mas a votação de urgência não deve ser aprovada neste momento em que ainda precisamos dar continuidade a um debate mais amplo sobre os pontos que podem trazer efeitos colaterais danosos ao ecossistema digital

A Câmara dos Deputados pretende votar a urgência do Projeto de Lei 2630/2020 (PL das Fake News). Acelerar sua aprovação dificulta que a sociedade civil, plataformas e autoridades continuem a contribuir com sugestões de melhorias no texto, que ainda tem pontos preocupantes.

We've always believed the internet should be global, free, and secure.

Today, we aim to inform the policy debate that is taking place concerning its future.

These are the five guiding principles we believe will underpin successful policy:

The internet is so much more than just a handful of well-known companies. The consequences of creating laws with only them in mind means that consumer choice and fair competition for smaller companies will be damaged.

We need creativity and choice for the web to thrive

Protecting the Open Internet requires pragmatism and collaboration.

Governments, industry, NGOs, and the public all have vital perspectives to contribute, and it's essential that policy is developed and implemented in an inclusive and transparent way.

- “We are proud to be part of this incredibly important conversation about the future of the Internet along with our partners in the #OpenInternetAlliance. We have eight founding principles ranging from non-binary content moderation, to decentralisation, to net neutrality” - @smcs

- Twitter Public Policy @Policy Mar 21

“Freedom to create shouldn't be behind walls. We make deliberate decisions to stand up for our users and protect their content, we believe an #OpenInternet is a better Internet and a lot more fun”

- @HollyHogansf, General Counsel, @automattic

2 3 10
- Twitter Public Policy @Policy Mar 21

“This is something worth fighting for - we should make sure we don't limit the possibility of innovation out there. The #OpenInternet is about low friction to enter and being able to drive innovation through that.”

- @ennotim, Tim Schmitz, COO/co-founder, @odeapp

- Twitter Public Policy @Policy Mar 21

“The internet is not about a few large giants, there are thousands of others that are less visible and pushed back by the large dominant players. Users and consumers can gain from having choice on the Internet.”

- @FeXMicha, Micha Felix, General Counsel @seznam.cz

- Twitter Public Policy @Policy Sundan

“We need rules for competition that ensure companies like ours, and smaller, and the next generation, are really able to compete and provide the next level of service that allows people to communicate in ways we haven't even thought of.”

Earlier this week, in close coordination with our peers, we suspended a number of accounts targeting the election in Uganda.

If we can attribute any of this activity to state-backed actors, we will disclose to our archive of information operations.

We've always believed the internet should be global, free, and secure.

Today, we aim to inform the policy debate that is taking place concerning its future.

These are the five guiding principles we believe will underpin successful policy:

The internet is so much more than just a handful of well-known companies.

The consequences of creating laws with only them in mind means that consumer choice and fair competition for smaller companies will be damaged.

We need creativity and choice for the web to thrive.

Blocking a world leader from Twitter or removing their controversial Tweets would hide important information people should be able to see and debate. It would also not silence that leader, but it would certainly hamper necessary discussion around their words and actions.
